Some Pertinent Information

Location

This year's conference will be held at Fram / Wilson Farm, approximately 2 hours drive northwest of Toronto (see map on reverse). The farm entrance is the second driveway on the right (north) side of Concession 2 when coming from Highway #4.

For out-of-towners, we recommend arriving Friday, August 1st, as the conference starts early Saturday morning. If arriving at night in the dark, look for the green and white fire sign #345351 at the entrance to the driveway.

Meals

Lunch and dinner will be served at the Fram/Wilson Farm as per price list, or you may bring your own.

Camping and Accommodations:

If you are camping at the farm we suggest you bring lawn chairs, cooler, extra beverages, lanterns, tents, and food for breakfast.

Weather:

Usually warm to hot days and cool nights. Dress is casual. There are swimming facilities nearby, so bring bathing attire.

ICR Membership

To become a voting member of ICR include $25.00 with your conference registration and meals fee.

Accommodations Available in the Area:

Note: Due to other events within the local area we strongly suggest you book your accommodations right away. If you should have difficulty please let us know.

Kundalini:

It's A Natural Process

"The secret of success is to discover and follow your particular path. The mystical process has an internal compass, which can be consulted once the way itself is clearly seen, and can help you find your bearings in the maze of life."

Bruno Borchert

"This slow metamorphosis in consciousness, which occurred imperceptibly from the very moment of my first experience, provides the key to the conclusion I had arrived at—that Kundalini represents the upgrading mechanism behind the evolution of the human brain."

Gopi Krishna
